The Data We Collect

The operation and use of our Viber App and Services involves collection of personal data, where the types of such data depend on the type of Service and interaction with us. For example, when you sign up for Viber, you directly provide us personal data. We also automatically collect certain personal data from our users' device. We explain which information we collect and how we collect it below.

The types of personal data collected through use of our Services, including App and website, are listed below. We note that, some types of personal data we collect are required for all Viber Services (for example, your phone number), some types may be required solely for certain Services or features you decide to use (for example, Viber payment services), and some are optional, and subject to your discretion (for example, your photo).

We do not read, listen or store your messages and/ or calls made privately:

We wish to clarify that we do not read or listen to the content of your messages and/or calls made privately via Viber and we do not store those messages (including any media files transferred therein) once they have been delivered to their destination (which on average takes less than one second). If for some reason the message was not delivered to its destination within up to 2 weeks, it will be deleted from our servers. We note that we allow you the option to back up your chat history data on your own external data backup service (like iCloud or Google Drive) – see HERE for more info on backup.

Data provided or collected through registration & under your Viber account or participation in Viber's activities:

- Identifiers, such as:
 - Your mobile number (including mobile country/network code);
 - Your personal details, (e.g., name, date of birth), if you provided them;
 - Your contact details (e.g., email address), if you provided them;
 - Your account login details, such as your username and any of your password or security pin-code, which you have chosen, if any;
 - Device identifiers, as described below.
- Your photo, if you provided it (e.g. any avatar).
- Your phone address book, meaning, the names, the phone numbers and the favorites list from your contact lists, if you approved access to them.

Geolocation data:

- General location, we use IP addresses we collect and additional information (e.g., phone number area codes), to estimate your general location (e.g., city level); we may also use your residential address, if it's been provided by you.
- GPS based location, we will collect the GPS location for very specific purposes (as detailed below), and solely if you gave us permission.

Financial information provided or collected through your use of our limited financial services (e.g., payment solutions), or purchased subscription and offers:

- Purchased subscriptions, products or services:
If you purchase credit or subscribe to a Viber Out plan on our App or websites, we will process your billing data (e.g., full name or your user name, phone number, payment method), as well as transactions-related information (e.g., the purchasing amount; date of purchase, currency; IP address, country, first and last 4 digits of your credit card).
- Viber Chatbot Payment Transactions:
Transactions-related details (transaction ID, time and date of purchase, purchase description, purchase amount, currency, the merchant, transaction result, user free text entered information)
- Viber payment services:
 - Know Your Client (“KYC”) data – including full name, date of birth, phone number, email, country of residence, national identity document, selfie and confirmation of the KYC verification status (i.e., approved or declined), KYC level, tax ID (where required in a certain country) other related documents specifically requested as part of KYC
 - Transaction and wallet related information – including your digital wallet balance), details of the tokenized version of the credit/debit card of the user, details of your wallet such as your IBAN, wallet ID and Swift code payment transaction information (including the instruction ID, payment method, fees, exchange rate, amount, currency, date and time, status of the payment, payment references, fraud related information.).In addition, if you send or receive payments or interact with other persons, we may have access or otherwise store the sender’s or recipient’s account details (e.g.,, bank account details (including IBAN and Swift/ BIC code), wallet details (including wallet ID), details of the tokenized version of the credit/ debit card, payment IDs, payment information (i.e. merchant category code, type, authorization code), payment method information, country, address, date of birth, name, phone number, email, status in a promotion);
 - Hashed pin code.

Data we collect automatically from your device, e.g., data collected using cookies and other device identifying technologies ('Cookies and Tracking Technologies'):

- Device identifiers, meaning identifiers for the devices you have used to access our websites and application, including IP address, unique device identifiers, advertising related identifiers, MAC identifiers.
- Electronic network activity data, such as information stored on log files, when you access our Service and website for example, including access time and date stamp, pages viewed, IP address, the pages that directed you to our website, information related to errors and crash reports.

- Activity data, relating to your usage of Services, such as connection status, whether you have received and seen messages sent to you, if you are currently on another call and data related to the calls and messages that you send and receive, such as length of the call, who called who, who messaged who, and at what time, your personal preferences related to such usage (for example how often, for how long, what options are selected, etc.). Such activity data may also include:
 - With your permission, we may collect activity data about communities, channels, bots, businesses and links you interact with inside Viber – e.g. data about the communities and channels you have visited or follow, messages you have liked, messages you have sent, the content you have viewed, links you have clicked on;
 - Items you searched and shared via Chat Extensions;
 - Offers selected or redeemed; and
 - Viber payment services activity or business accounts activity.
- Other device data, e.g., data about your device’s operating system, your browser, browser or operating system language, your wireless network, your mobile carrier.

For more information regarding how we and our partners use cookies, as well as your choices and controls, please see our Viber Ads, Cookies and Tracking Technologies' Policy.

Data we collect or receive from other sources and inferred data:

- Social media data:
 - If you sign in through third party social media sites like VK - your public profile, including name, relationship status, age, avatar, friends list, accounts you follow or who follow you, your email address, birthday, occupation history, education history, interests, current country, city, and video viewing. Access is ongoing and based on what you already share publicly;
 - Social media data received through your contacts on social media, depending upon your and your contacts’ setting on such social media sites.
- Your contact name, as saved on other users’ devices if they chose to share their contacts with us.
- Viber may also process inferences about your account and Device identifier, such as:
 - Inferred gender - for example, inferred from your name;
 - Inferred interests – inferred from your activity such as the communities, channels, bots, businesses and links you interact with inside Viber– as long as you permitted so;
 - Inferences from third party data and ads-related interactions - we may receive inferred data, linked to your device identifier (mainly, a unique device identifier generated by cookies or other tracking technologies used on our website and Services) from our trusted third-party advertisers and service providers. Such inferred data we receive may include inferences about your interests and characteristics, generated by such third parties from other websites and services you have visited (for example, whether you are interested in fintech, cars etc., which income group you might pertain to, as well as the locations you tend to visit, based on your GPS location). In addition, inferences can be generated from data on how you interact with ads displayed on our App after clicking on them and data about your activity and preferences derived from the clicks on our own ads (and the subsequent installs of our App) associated with your device identifier, delivered on third party's advertising platforms by our trusted third parties. For more information, please see our Viber Ads, Cookies & Tracking Technologies Policy.

User Submitted Content:

If you choose to participate in Viber's activities (e.g., contests), or as part of your participation in communities/channels/bots' activities available on Viber, you may voluntarily publish, submit or post content such as videos, images, graphics, text, videos, etc., which may include personal data (e.g., an image of a person).

Data we collect from your communications with us, including support, customer services and other inquiries:

If you choose to contact us through any means of communications we make available, you may provide us with certain information such as your contact details (e.g., name, email, phone number, mobile carrier, country – mainly where you are not a user of our Services) and other information you voluntarily wish to provide (mainly, related to the issue you wish us to address or resolve). We will further store our contact history and correspondence with you.

Non Users' Data:

Mobile phone number and contact name, as saved on a Viber user's phone address book: We may process your mobile phone number even if you are not a Viber user, in the event that your phone number was included in our existing user's address book that has been provided to us (and subject to such user providing us with approval to access the device address book). We will also save the name it was saved under by our user. We do it to show our user who in their contacts is already using our Services and who is not, to allow users find and communicate with their contacts who are users or who are not users in a more efficient way, and solely for as long as a relevant Viber user's account exists on Viber. In the event you will become an active user, the existing users whose phone book included your number, will be notified that you have joined the Service and you will be automatically added to their contact list within the Viber App.

If you are not a Viber user and would like to exclude your phone number, please contact us at: <https://vb.me/ContactUs>.

Caller ID: Additionally, if you are not a Viber user, your phone number and contact name (if provided to us by a user through sharing their contacts or otherwise) will be added to our Caller ID database and used as part of Viber Caller ID feature (for more info see here), which allows to indicate your name to Caller ID users when you are on a call with them outside

Viber. Such process enables Viber to improve Caller ID services with a purpose to reduce scam, fraud and harassment for our users.

To opt-out from the processing as part of Caller ID service, please visit this page.

Business partners data:

When you communicate with us for business purposes as a business partner of ours, we will save your contact data provided by you (e.g. names, phone number, email, address), as well as any correspondence we have had. We use trusted third-party providers to manage the maintenance and storage of such data.

How We Use Your Data & Lawful Basis for Processing Your Personal Data

Under the GDPR, we must have a lawful basis to process your personal data. This may include collection of personal data for the purpose of performing our contract with you (for example, create your Viber account), fulfilling our legitimate interests (for example, collection of data in order to secure our Services), complying with our legal obligations, as well as, where applicable, processing personal data based on your consent (for example, when you voluntarily request to participate in our marketing activities). You can find here information regarding the purposes for which we process the types of personal data listed above, as well as our lawful basis for such processing operations.

In a summary, our lawful basis to process your personal data will be one of the following:

- Performance of Contract: We rely on the contractual obligations for the purpose of providing you with the Services in accordance with our Terms of Service, such as, enabling you to register to, log in and/or activate the Services, to back up your data in connection with in-app purchases, or limited financial services if you use these.
- Legitimate Interest: We rely on legitimate interest for contextual marketing campaigns or promotions based on first party behavior data (meaning, the way you interact with Viber Services), product development, continued improvement of existing features and provision of certain features, processing a non-user data for the contact list purposes, fraud/spam prevention, and in order to create your Rakuten account. When we process personal data to meet our legitimate interests, we put in place robust safeguards to ensure that your privacy is protected to ensure that the risk to your interests or fundamental rights and freedoms is minimized.
- Legal Obligation, Compliance and Public Interest: In some cases, we may also have a legal obligation to process your personal data such as fulfilling your user's rights or may otherwise need your personal data to protect your vital interests or those of another person.
- Consent: Where required under applicable law, we will obtain your consent to collect, use or share your data, including through cookies on our website or SDK and other tracking technologies embedded in the App (all as detailed in the Viber Ads, Cookies & Tracking Technologies Policy). You can withdraw your consent at any time.

The table below details the lawful basis we rely on for each personal data set, aligned with the purpose of use. Certain types of personal data might be used for multiple purposes, and accordingly will be processed under different lawful basis.

Please note that, the actual processing operation per each purpose of use and lawful basis detailed in the table above, may differ. Such processing operation usually includes set of operations, made by automated means, such as collection, storage, use, disclosure by transmission, erasure or destruction, and may involve transfers of personal data to third party countries as further detailed in the Data Transfer section below.

Our Service Providers	We share your personal data with our trusted service providers and business partners that perform business operations for us on our behalf (as data processors) and pursuant to our instructions. This includes the following categories of service providers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Advertising and marketing service providers, who help us with advertising measurements and app installations; • Data storage providers, with whom we entrust the hosting and storage of our data; • Customer support providers, who help us perform such functions as customer support and customer service; • Data analytics and data management providers, who help us improve, personalize and enhance our Services; • Measurement partners, who help us with measurements, tracking and targeting; • Payment and fintech services providers, who enable processing payments and fintech actions on our app; • Data security partners, who help us detect and prevent potentially illegal acts, violations of our policies, fraud and/or data security breaches and ensure compliance with legal obligations. Where we share information with services providers and partners, we ensure they only have access to such information that is strictly necessary in order for us to provide the Services. These parties are required to secure the data they receive and to use the data for pre-agreed purposes only, while ensuring compliance with all applicable data protection regulations (such service providers may use other non-personal data for their own benefit).
Third-Parties Offering Service Through our App	As part of Viber’s Services, we allow third parties to create communities, channels and business accounts on Viber, and develop through the use of Viber’s API their own bots, chat extensions and integrate into Viber explore screen in order to communicate with Viber users ("Third Party Communications").

	In the event you voluntarily choose to interact with the Third-Party Communications through your use of the Services, such third parties may receive certain data about you, such as your user’s name, photo, country, some device data and Viber unique ID. These third parties are not processing the data on our behalf and are considered “independent controllers” of such data for the purposes of the GDPR, meaning, their use of your data shall be subject to their policies and privacy practices.
Advertising Partners	We will share with such advertising partners, including partners managing our advertising placements (Rakuten), a unique device identifier (i.e., an advertising identifier associated with your device) along with age range, inferred gender, country, city, reduced IP address and certain technical or aggregated data (e.g., your language preference). Your unique advertising identifier is created by your mobile device’s operating system and you can change it or choose not to share it at any time. If you want to know more, read our Viber Ads, Cookies & Tracking Technologies Policy. The list of our advertising partners is available HERE
Legal and Law Enforcement	We may disclose certain data to law enforcement, governmental agencies, or authorized third parties, in response to a verified request relating to terror acts, criminal investigations or alleged illegal activity or any other activity that may expose us, you, or any other Viber user to legal liability, and solely to the extent necessary to comply with such purpose. This disclosure is subject to our strict data security and privacy practices and without compromising our end-to-end encryption. It may include, depending on the circumstances, certain types of your Activity Data, Identifiers and phone address book.
Corporate Transactions	In the event of a corporate transaction (e.g., sale of a substantial part of our business, merger, consolidation or asset sale) we will share the data we store with our acquiring company.

	We will obligate the acquiring company to assume the rights and obligations as described in our Privacy Policy (including this notice), and we will notify you of such corporate changes in your data processing.
Limited Payment Services	If you use our Viber payment services, we will share with our Payment Service Provider KYC data, fraud data, payment requests/ instructions, specifically requested information (i.e. due to a specific issue), transaction and wallet related information. If you use our Viber Chatbot Payment, we will share with Google Pay or Apple Pay or any other linked payments provider the following information: (i) name of the payment service provider merchant; (ii) price of the items purchased and currency; and (iii) the description of the items purchased. The confirmation of the payment is provided directly to the merchant and Viber does not receive or share any payment data or registration data from Apple Pay nor Google Pay. Note that, your use of Apple Pay and Google Pay, including their use of your data, is subject to their respective terms and privacy policy which can be found here: Google Pay, Apple Pay. If you use our Viber Out Credit and subscriptions, we will share your email address with our payment processor, for the purpose of verification and fraud detection.
Other Users	When you use our Services, other users can see certain data about you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Unless you have changed your settings: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • your user name and photo; • your phone number (if you are in communication with them or have a business account); • your connection status; • whether you have received and seen messages sent to you. ● If you are currently on another call. ● If they are part of the call with you, data related to the calls and messages you have sent and received such as length of the call, who called who, who messaged who, and at what time, the type of call (audio/video) and

	whether you answered the call on your primary or another device. <ul style="list-style-type: none">● For disappearing messages, we will notify the other users of any screenshots you've taken (so please respect the vibe and do not take them).● Your name and photo may be shown to users who turned on the Viber Caller ID feature when you initiate a phone call with them (on Viber or mobile).● When you join Viber, the contacts in your address book that are already Viber members may be informed that you're now on Viber too.● A reminder about your birthday on the date of your birthday unless you have changed your settings.● When you join Viber payment services, the contacts in your address book that are already Viber members may be informed that you're now using Viber payment services. Data Transfer

Due to our global operations, your personal data will be shared with Viber corporate family, as well as our service providers and business partners around the world including outside the EEA and UK. We take measures to ensure the transfer of such data will provide sufficient safeguards, as required under the GDPR. These measures include compliance with Binding Corporate Rules of the Rakuten Group, as well as contractual commitments of our partners and service providers. We further explain below why we transfer personal data, the measures we take to ensure your personal data will be secure upon transfer, and your rights in this regard.

Due to our global nature and operation, your personal data may need to be processed in countries that may not offer the same level of protection as in your home country. When personal data collected within the EEA and the UK is transferred outside these locations, we will take the steps necessary to ensure that the transfer of such data provides sufficient safeguards, as required under the GDPR.

- We store and process all categories of your personal data on our computers and servers. Your data will be stored in our servers located in the US, however note that, our communications servers are located globally in order to enable the operation of our communications services.
- As part of the Rakuten Group, the transfer of your personal data to entities which are a part of our Viber corporate family (whether located in the EEA and UK or not), are made in accordance with the Rakuten Group Binding Corporate Rules to legitimize international data transfers within the Group. The Rakuten Group Binding Corporate Rules can be found at <https://corp.rakuten.co.jp/privacy/en/bcr.html>
- Some of our service providers and business partners are located in various locations, including outside of the EU, EEA or UK. In such events, transfers of your personal data will be made in accordance with applicable data protection laws, and as specifically, without derogating from the above, all transfers of personal data outside the EU, EEA or UK are also subject to the provisions of the Standard Contractual Clauses (known as "SCC") approved by the European Commission (and the equivalent for the UK and for Switzerland where applicable) available HERE. Where applicable and required by law we ensure supplementary measures are placed, such as encryption in transfer and at rest.

Subject to applicable laws, you may exercise your rights to receive information on such transfer mechanisms detailed above, by contacting us through our online form available at: <https://vb.me/ContactUs> (please choose the "privacy inquiry" or "GDPR inquiry" categories), or through additional means of communications we have provided under this notice.

Data Retention

As we have explained above, we process personal data for various purposes. Accordingly, we only keep personal data as long as required to fulfill the purpose for which the data was collected, or, in some instance, where we have other necessities to retain the personal data, for example, where required by law. We explain below the criteria used by us to determine the retention of your personal data (meaning, for how long we store it and when we delete it, aligned with the type of data and purpose of collection).

The criteria used by us to determine Viber's retention periods are as follows:

- The type of personal data and purpose of collection – unless otherwise specified, we retain data as long as it is necessary and relevant for us to achieve the purposes for which the personal data was collected. For example:
 - Personal data required to be retained in order to maintain your Viber account and to enable you the use of Viber Services – these types of data, including your mobile number, and phone address book, will be retained for as long as you maintain your Viber account.
 - Personal data you have voluntarily provided during registration or through your account – these types of data, including your photo, date of birth, email address, will be retained for as long as you maintain your Viber account.
 - The details of your communication with our customer support team will be stored for 10 years.
 - Call Detail Records (CDRs) of your free Viber calls and messaging activity are kept as a raw data for 24 months from creation. CDRs may include, for example, you phone number and device identifiers (i.e., IP address, unique device identifier).
 - We delete any message once delivered, or after 14 days if delivery attempts throughout this period was not successful.

If you decide to delete your Viber account, the CDRs and communications with our customer support will be retained as detailed above, and we will further retain records of financial information with respect to Viber payment services this means KYC data, transaction and wallet related information or your hashed pin code), Viber Out usage including CDRs, purchasing subscriptions for the periods required under applicable laws, or as needed in accordance with our fraud monitoring program or to identify a returning user (for Viber payment services).

All other types of data related to your Viber account will be deleted, unless we are required to further retain the data, subject to the criteria detailed below. We may keep activity data on a non-identifiable basis to improve our Services. Your posts on channels and communities may remain available if you do not delete them. Please note that deletion of the App (i.e., uninstall the App from your device) will not immediately delete your account, but if you do not reinstall it within subsequent two weeks your account may be deactivated; provided however if you have Viber Credit under your Viber Out account, other time periods will apply as set forth under “Viber Credits Specifications” clause of Viber Out Service Specific Terms. Please see information and instruction regarding your account deletion HERE.

- Compliance with our legal obligations – we are required to retain certain types of data in order to comply with our obligations under applicable laws. For example, we need to retain transactions information to comply with tax legislation. In addition, we may retain certain types of personal data in the event we are required to do so subject to a binding legal request or a court order. Further, subject to EU Directive 2002/58/EC we are required to retain certain personal data (such as phone number) to convey messages and calls.

- Dispute, claims and legal proceedings – if you have a dispute with us, we may retain certain types of personal data as necessary and applicable to your claims, including any legal proceedings between us, until such dispute was resolved, and following, if we find it necessary, in accordance with applicable statutory limitation periods. In addition, in the event you request to exercise your rights, we will maintain the applicable correspondence for as long as needed to demonstrate compliance, and usually in accordance with applicable statutory limitation periods.
- Retention for Non-Users' Data – If you are not a Viber user, and we process your data to enable Viber users to communicate with you via Viber Services, we will retain such data as long as it is relevant to Viber users, or until you have requested us to stop processing your phone number. You can request to exclude your phone number and opt out here. You can also opt out from the processing for the Caller ID service by contacting us here. Furthermore, if one of our users used our Viber Out Services in order to communicate with you (i.e., call you through Viber), we will retain a log of such call (Call Detail Records – CDR – as detailed above), which will include your phone number, for 24 months from creation. In relation to Viber payment services we store non user data as long as it is relevant to a Viber payment services user (i.e. you are the sender or a recipient in a transaction with them or as part of a promotion). Further, this information may be stored as part of our fraud program or in response to specific customer queries.

Your Rights Related to Your Personal Data

Under the GDPR, you have certain rights regarding the personal data that Viber has collected about you. Such rights may include (depending on the type of data and our lawful basis for processing) the right to know which types of data we collect and why we collect it (as we detail under this notice), the right to request rectification of your personal data, the right to request us to delete your personal data, the right to restrict processing of personal data, the right to data portability, the right to access your personal data, the right to object to the processing of certain forms of data, the right to appeal automated decisions and profiling, the right to withdraw your consent at any time, as well as the right to lodge a complaint to a supervisory authority. We further explain below the operational meaning of each such right, as well as when and how you may exercise your right.

The Right to Be Informed

This EU Region Privacy Notice and Viber's Privacy Policy describes our practices in detail using simple language. Everything you need to know is here. If you have more questions, feel free to contact our support team.

The Right to Rectification

If you believe we have the wrong data about you, or that your data is incomplete, feel free to change it at any time through the profile settings on your Viber settings on your mobile device. If you can't find what you are looking for, contact us.

The Right to Erasure

We have made it easy for you to delete your historical data on the App, while continuing to use the App. Simply tap on the delete your data button in your privacy settings. We will delete the data which we are not otherwise required to keep or is not necessary for the provision of the Service. And no need to worry – deleting your data won't remove the chats on your Viber App on your phone.

Note that when you deactivate the Viber account your data and chats are automatically deleted from your devices.

The Right to Restrict Processing (Right to Opt Out)

We allow you to opt out of certain processing of your data by using the Viber privacy settings on your mobile device. You can decide which processing operations you want to opt-out of. You can also change the settings on your mobile device operating system at any time to prevent us gaining access to certain data such as your accurate location – but this may negatively impact on your user experience.

The Right to Data Portability

We have created a request your data button in Viber's privacy settings on your mobile device to make a simple way for you to access the data connected to your account. Once it is ready, you will receive a file from Viber containing this data.

The Right of Access

You may access your data by using the request your data button (see below) and for further access requests you can contact our support team. If you have further questions contact us.

The Right to Object

You can object to the processing of certain forms of data by contacting our support. Complete this online form and explain your special circumstances. If you receive emails from us, you can always opt out on the bottom of the email, or by contacting our support. We also allow you to opt out of certain processing of your data by using the Viber privacy settings on your mobile device.

The Right to Appeal Automated Decisions and Profiling

We may make an automated decision to block a user, in case we suspect this user is using our services for illegal acts or acts that violate our terms of service. If you believe that your account was unlawfully blocked, you can contact our support team.

The Right to Withdraw Consent

Where we have collected or other process your personal data based on your consent, at any time, you have the right withdraw your consent.

If you would like to further understand or exercise your rights, please contact us by:

- Our online form available at: <https://vb.me/ContactUs> - please choose the "privacy inquiry" or "GDPR inquiry" categories.
- Using the "contact us" form on the App.
- Email: DPO@viber.com
- By mail:
Viber Media S.à r.l.,
Attention: Data Privacy Officer
2, rue du Fossé, L-1536
Luxembourg, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

We will contact you if we need additional information from you in order to honor your requests.

You have the right to submit a complaint with our lead supervisory authority or any other competent data protection supervisory authority. Our lead supervisory authority is the National Commission for Data Protection – Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg.

In addition to the above, Viber provides you with certain choices and controls you may exercise, related to your personal data, as follows:

- We enable you to delete or edit your messages anytime, even after they have been sent (they will be deleted or appear edited for you, your friend and our Services).
- You can also control your privacy settings within the App to change the visibility of your online status.
- You can disable the “seen” notification so that other users do not know whether you’ve read a message yet.
- You can choose not to share your photo and/or birthday or not to allow other users to look you up by name, which are available within the App.
- You can also make additional choices on your phone’s settings by changing our App’s permissions such as GPS location sharing, access to contact list and more.
- You can choose not to display your Viber payment services badge.
- If you do not wish to receive Viber marketing notifications, you may adjust your system settings to decline notifications from Viber, or submit a request to our support. And if you subscribed to receive promotional emails from Viber, you can unsubscribe in any such email at any time.
- Sending a message to a bot, subscribing to a bot will allow admins of that bot to send you notifications and personal messages. If you do not wish to receive such notifications, you may adjust your account settings to decline them or opt-out at any time from receiving further notifications.
- You can choose to allow or to not allow customization and personalization of our Services provided to you based on your personal data, by changing your personal data toggles in the privacy setting within the App.

Changes to this EU Region Privacy Notice

We may make changes to this EU Region Privacy Notice from time to time. If we do (except for minor tweaks), we will notify you via our App and website.

We may modify or update this privacy notice from time to time.

If we change this privacy notice (except for technical tweaks), we will notify you of the changes. Where changes to this privacy notice will have a fundamental impact on the nature of the processing or otherwise have a substantial impact on you, we will give you sufficient advance notice so that you have the opportunity to exercise your rights (e.g., to object to the processing). The last modification date of this privacy policy will be reflected in the “Last Updated” header above.

In the event you read this policy in any language other than English, you agree that in the event of any discrepancies, the English version shall prevail.
